Come and find out what all the excitement is about! With more than 350 participants attending last year, this will be the biggest camp to date with some new facilitators and exciting new initiatives!

Why Should I Go?

SYA Summer Camp is a fantastic opportunity to understand and learn more about Sikhism; develop self esteem; meet other proud Australian Sikhs; participate in interactive and non-judgmental debates, discussion groups, Kirtan, yoga, sports and adventurous activities. And most of all have fun!

In 2011 we will be building on our strengths from past years as well as introducing some new exciting activities including:

- Special programs for the young Mighty Khalsas and Bahadur Bachey groups
 - Exciting interactive sessions on Sikh history
 - Lessons on turban tying, kirtan & tabla
- You don't want to miss out on this!

... and it's not an endless Gurdwara session!

All programs are delivered in an interactive, FUN and relaxed learning environment with English as the primary medium. It is a camp where you can make new friends whilst immersing yourself in the knowledge and understanding of Sikhism and grow spiritually.

Recreational activities are organized every afternoon and include sailing, swimming, canoeing, bike riding, abseiling, ropes courses, basketball and soccer - all supervised by Department of Sport and Recreation staff.

Who Should Attend?

Sikhs of all ages - including parents, grandparents and families - are most welcome. All participants, including parents, will be divided into age groups so you can meet other Sikh youths your own age. Those participants aged below 12 years will need to be accompanied by a parent.

Strict supervision of participants will be maintained at all times. There will be separate modern, dormitory style lodges for males and females.
